ACADEMIC SESSION (ONLINE): 3rd MAY,2020

Keeps students regular and disciplined A virtual classroom requires students to be present on time and join the class with an attentive mind. It has helped in recreating a routine for them so that they

Have a particular target for each day and they do not waste time doing unimportant activities to go to school and come in contact with others.

This saves them from receiving any type of infections from others that helps in keeping their immune system strong. Moreover, being at home gives them a chance to eat fresh and healthy foods all day that is much required for boosting their immune system to fight any symptoms of Covid.

They get homework and assignments that help in keeping the students committed and disciplined towards their studies. In this way, the online classes ensure that the students continue to learn despite the schools shutting down

Easily accessible from any place another major advantage of online learning is that it allows students to attend classes from any location of their choice. They only need a good internet connection a computer, laptop or a smart phone to attend the class. Students are now free from the daily hassles of commuting to school.

Now, they just need to open their devices and sign in at the scheduled time to join the class. This has also improved the attendance of students.

COST OF EDUCATION IS REDUCED:

This can be seen as a very important advantage in this period when the pandemic has already hit the budget of many families. Online classes have lowered down the huge amount of money for both the schools and students. Due to the schools being closed, the cost of their infrastructure and maintenance has decreased.

This, in turn, has caused a drop in the school fees of students making education more economic for them. Online learning has also eliminated the cost of transportation.

Students can keep away from distractions, there are many students who are solo learners and get distracted by large groups in the classroom. There may be some notorious students in the classroom who might prevent you to focus on what the teacher has been teaching in the class.

Whereas in online classes there is no such problem. Each and every student has a direct interaction with the teacher that helps in quick learning.

SAVES STUDENTS FROM EXPOSURE TO INFECTIONS:

In virtual classes, students do not have to go to school and come in contact with others. This saves them from receiving any type of infections from others that helps in keeping their immune system strong. Moreover, being at home gives them a chance to eat fresh and healthy foods all day that is much required for boosting their immune system to fight any symptoms of Covid-19.
